ANN GREENFIELD
NEW HARMONY, INDIANA

Ann Greenfield (née Powers), 87, of New Harmony, Indiana, died Thursday, October 13, 2022 in her home, following one year of illness.

Ann worked doggedly for over 60 years in Democratic politics in Posey County and greater Indiana. Her efforts were ever aimed at improving the lives of voters within the state's "Bloody Eighth" congressional district. In her most active years of service, Democrats held nearly every elected office and most town offices throughout Posey County. Her late husband, James R. Greenfield, was chairman of Posey County's Democratic Central Committee from 1969 to 1980.

Born in Oklahoma on September 20, 1935, Ann was the second child of James Watts Powers and Jewel Muncy. The family moved to New Harmony in 1947. After graduating from New Harmony High School in 1953, Ann was recruited by the Posey County prosecutor to open the Posey County Democratic Headquarters in Poseyville, Indiana. A young, local reporter covered the story of the headquarters opening. Ann married that newspaperman in 1957, a year after he purchased the Posey County News. Jim remained owner and publisher of the paper until 1979.

Ann served for many years as vice chair of the Posey County Democrats; owned and operated Heart of Harmony Antiques on New Harmony's Main St.

for over 20 years; kept books for her daughter who owned and operated Amy's Market on Hwy. 66 in Wadesville, Indiana for nearly 30 years; and served as adviser and confidant to southwestern Democratic candidates across generations. She read voraciously and traveled the world. Her breadth of knowledge and the style with which she shared it is cherished by her every listener.

Surviving are her daughter, Amy (Kamel) Abuasabeh of Indianapolis, Indiana; stepdaughter, Mary James Damin of Evansville, Indiana; granddaughters, Annie (Brent) Tremelling of Colorado Springs, Colorado and Alena Coleman of Evansville, Indiana; and a great-granddaughter, Eva Tremelling.

Surviving also are nieces Leslie (Mark) Pribonic of Saint Charles, Missouri and Gay Lynn (David) Introcaso of Alexandria, Virginia, and nephew Gary (Afsoon Poozeshi) Sabrowsky of Arlington, Virginia.

Please join Ann's family at the Rapp-Owen Granary in New Harmony, Indiana on Sunday, November 13, 2022 at 2 p.m. to celebrate her life.

Memorial contributions may be directed to the Rapp Granary-Owen Foundation at 413 W. Granary Street, New Harmony, Indiana, 47631.

“ Ann was well loved and will be sorely missed. She was among the most intelligent, widely read and wisest persons I have ever known and had a keen wit to boot. I was humbly honored to have her as a friend and mentor. Condolences from my family to hers.

“ Ann was my very first mentor when I began my activities in local politics. She had a sharp mind and unlimited wisdom when it came to politics. Ann will be greatly missed by the many lives that she touched. Rest in peace my friend. We have the watch. Jeff Greenwell, New Harmony
