“ To Urban, John, Larry, Ron, Frank, Tim, Joel, Deb, Carol, and Joan,

I deeply regret that I missed the visitation and funeral service for your Mother. Sherrie texted me last Friday that your Mother had passed,. I was committed for the weekend, and when I thought again to look for the obituary this evening, I found that the funeral was today.

Your Mother is the last of that great generation of our parents from our wonderful neighborhood. The great legacy that she and your Dad have left in all of you and your children and grandchildren is evident for all to see. Our parents lived in a wonderful world in a wonderful time. They saw us through to an easier but more complicated life.

In reading her obituary, I learned something I did not know, and that was the fact that she played the organ and directed the children's choir for years at St. Francis! How wonderful that she knew how to play the organ and filled that role.

My thoughts are with you now as you navigate this World without a living parent. It is a very different feeling that we experience even though we ourselves are now aging adults. And of course, it reminds us ever more of our own mortality.

Although time has a way of moving us apart, I will always feel a bond with your family.

Respectfully,

John Broadhead.
