“ years ago, id say about 12 years ago, mike ,myself my husband( matt wild) and our 3 year old daughter(now 16) all decided to go to turkey run state park to go camping. so we set up camp and me and matt decide to go to liquor store. while we are gone mike decides to get some starter logs from the camp site next to ours. i guess those people didnt want to share cuz they accused mike of stealing their wood and we was asked to leave. when matt and i return back from liquor store, mike and my daughter are no where to be found. none of us had a cell phone and we had no idea where they went, with my child. so we drive back home to mt Vernon assuming thats what mike would do. well he didnt. he decided to stay at another camp ground, with my child for the rest of the weekend. i was tripping. by 9 pm the next evening and no word from mike i thought for sure something awful had happened. just as i was starting to call the law, to report a missing person, there is a knock on the door. i run open the door, my face red snot coming out my nose from crying eyes swoll n puffy with tears streaming down my face and there stands mike and my child both smiling big and then mike kinda chuckled and i proceed to cuss him when i calm down i apologized and il never forget what he told me, he said not to apologize cuz he new by how upset i got that i was a good mom and he could see how much i cared for my baby girl. its a memory i will never forget and one ive always held close to my heart.
