“ Bill will truly be missed by all of our family. Scott worked for Bill at A1 Tooling in 1990 for a short time, which began his friendship with Bill. In 2005, our family purchased the building Bill’s shop was in, when Bill retired. When it came time for Bill to handover the Keys to the shop, Scott told him to keep them, and that he was welcome anytime. He would jokingly consult and over see operations, over the years to come. If you’ve ever heard the phrase “they came with the building”, it held true for Bill. He literally came with the building. Bill liked to come in throughout the week and start coffee for himself, us, and his friends: JD, John, Danny, Bernie, Jack and more. Many hunting and fishing stories were shared in the mornings throughout the years. Thanks to Bill, we had many fish fries and enjoyed many Christmas parties with him at the shop. He shared stories about his family and his eventful life. We will always remember him for his wisdom and wit, but mostly his kindness and his contagious smile. Our thoughts and prayers go out to his family and friends.

“ Scherri, David and family of Bill, We are so sorry for your loss. We pray you find comfort in the many fond memories of times together. He will be missed

Thinking of memories of Bill creates so many stories of his life in business and marriage to Joyce, love of his life. He always brought a smile to everyone.

Remember few years ago he told me that he and Joyce were enjoying “assisted living”. Yeah he says she “assists” me and I “assist” her! That’s the Bill I choose to remember. He will be missed by all.

“ I remember when Bill said he was ready to join St. Paul's. I asked him what changed his mind? He said I was more Baptist than Methodist. I always took that as a compliment.

Rest In Peace. We will always cherish the time with you at the May family reunions, you always the one to bless the meal, the stories you shared of your time as a kid on the farm with Mom & Pop May. The 'liars bench'...so many who sat on that bench are now gone but forever in our hearts. Lots of love, JJ & Gwenn
